

Woodbine Elementary Celebrates Black History with Read In

Woodbine Elementary students were delighted to host a visit from local dignitaries during their annual Black History Month Read In. Special guests from around the county visited Woodbine classrooms to share books and stories written by African American authors or highlighting the achievements and contributions of famous African Americans. The local "celebrities" seemed as delighted by the students as the students were by their visitors. What a wonderful way to celebrate Black History Month!