

Professional Materials

In order to effectively meet the needs of students, materials must also be provided for teachers, administrators, and other staff members. A professional media collection should be maintained and updated periodically at the school or system level. That collection should include print and non-print media which are relevant to the educational objectives of the system, are relevant to the instructional activities of the school, and provide information on professional trends and developments.